The month of March activities included The Hairest Show on Earth.

1968-69 School Year

The activities of the 1968-69 school year of Lincolnview High School can be represented by symbols of the various school events. Each class, sport, and organization has items and emblems which have special meanings. The foremost emblem of our school is the Lancer, symbol of Lincolnview.

In this 1969 edition of the LANCER, we have tried to bring out the symbols of our high school, so as each student, parent, or faculty member looks through this annual, he will find some symbol of meaning to him.

-The Editors-

Students recall many memories as they sing the Alma Mater.

In the spring Lincolnview held its first home track meet.

The first annual Sportsarama was held at the end of March. The big event of the evening was the basketball game between Lincolnview and Crestview faculty.

June 1 brought the long-awaited day for Seniors.

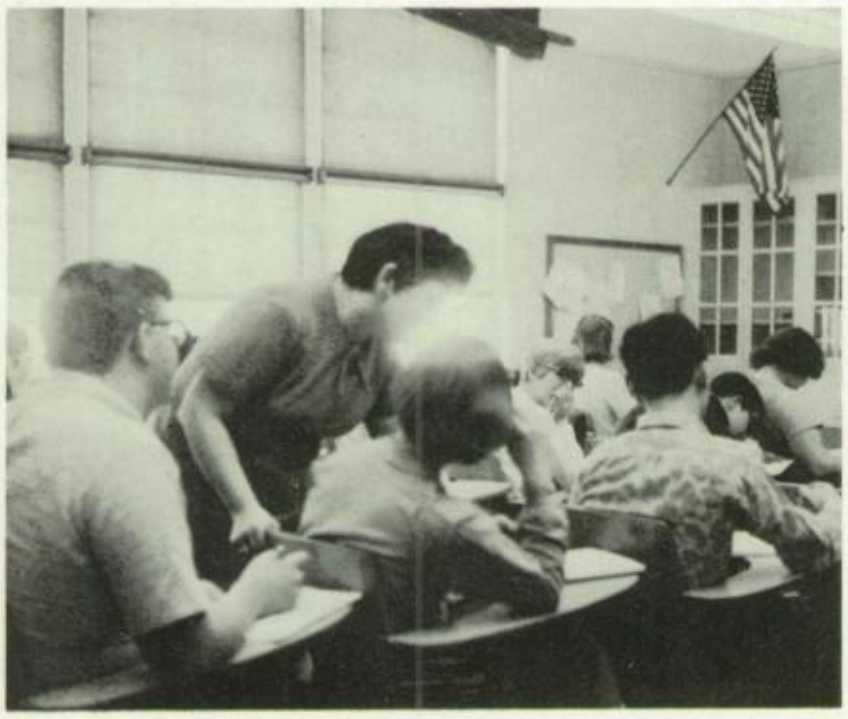
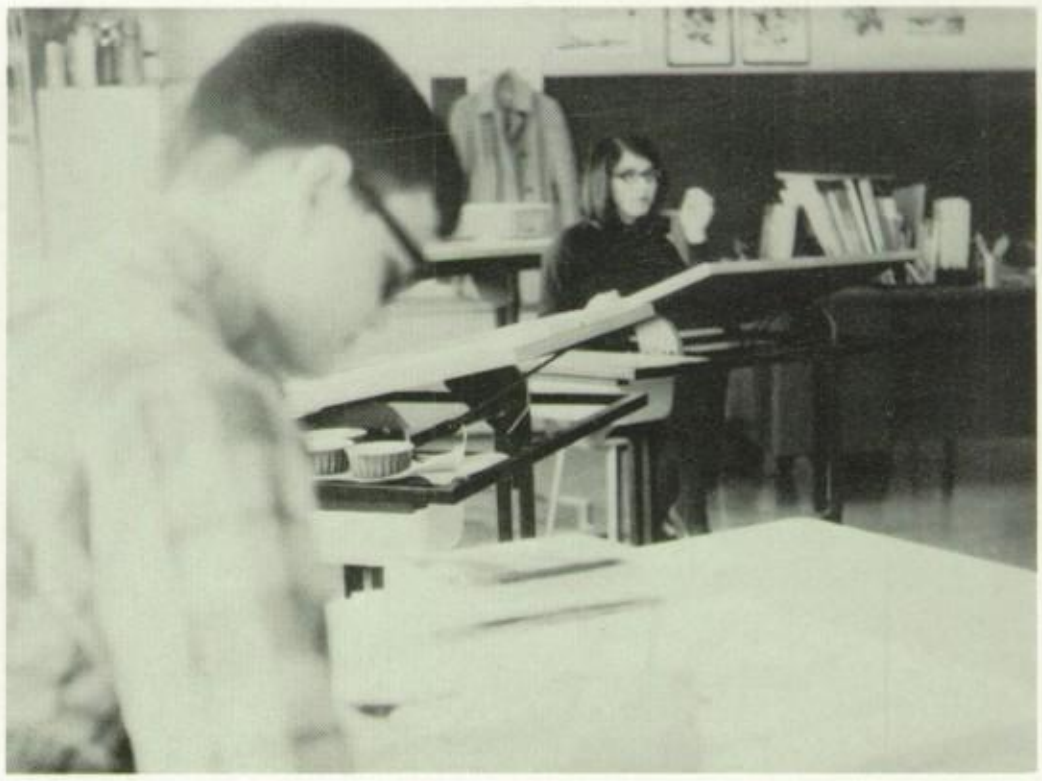
Two New Courses

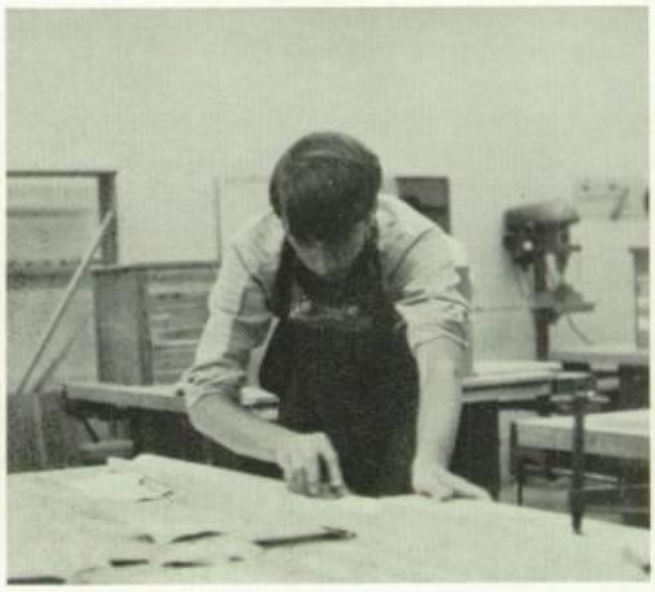


Mrs. Schaffner helps her Freshmen English class. English is required all four years. As alternatives, Seniors may take journalism or speech instead of English.



Art was one of the new courses offered this year. Bob Evans and Roxanne Hernandez are trying out their artistic abilities.

Changing a tire is just one of the many things that students learn in driver education.

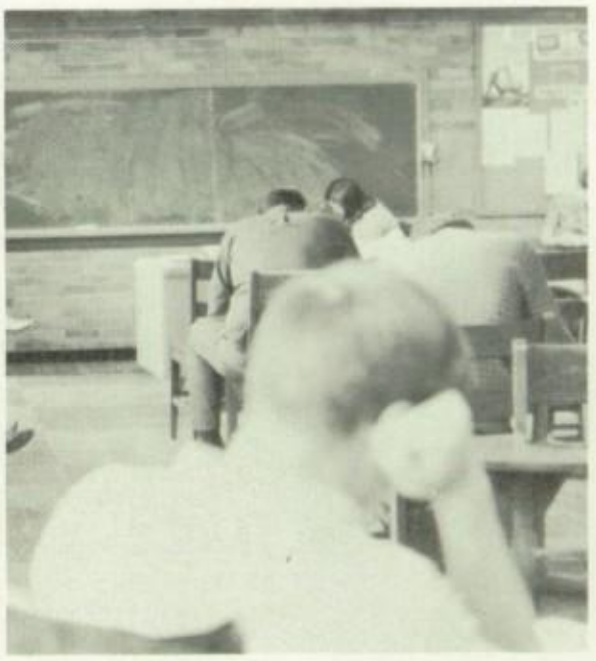


Ron Daeger learns many skills in industrial arts.

No one will forget our fearless study hall leader or study halls!

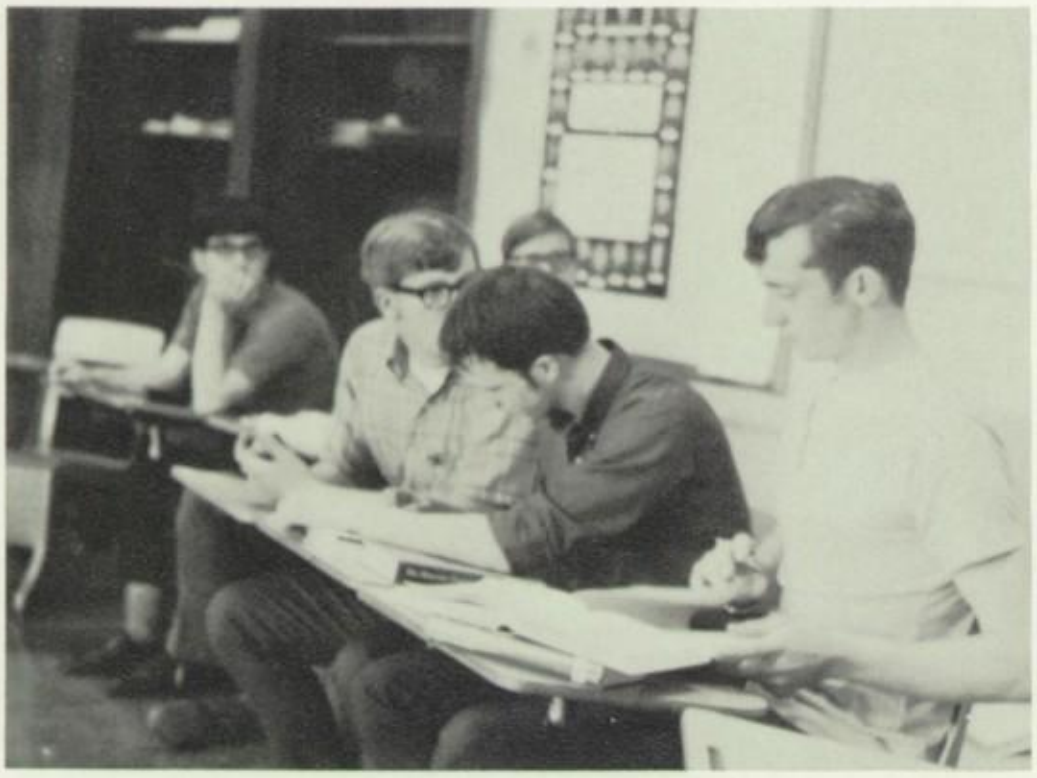
Tom Zuercher listens to French tapes. Students who want to take a foreign language can choose between Latin and French.

Lab is a part of studying chemistry, physics or biology.



Students always dread semester tests, but are happy when they are over.

Added to Curriculum



The other new course offered this year was distributive education which is a work and go to school program. Here students learn about businesses in the DE classroom.

Many students take typing in order to get a job or for their own personal use.

Suzi Mohr jumps hurdles, which is a small part of the physical education program.

A non-vocational home economics course was offered and boys took the course for the first time.

Randy Gorman puts away the tools. Working with tools is just one of the many things that students learn in vocational agriculture.

Sewing, cooking, and talking about family matters are the basics in home economics.

Shirley Jacobs shows her skill on business machines after taking business courses.

Rex Pollock fills up the wastepaper can as all other students who clean their lockers at the end of school.

Life at Lincolnview

Who will replace Clyde next year?

I just love that teacher!

Students enjoy food at the LANCER INN.

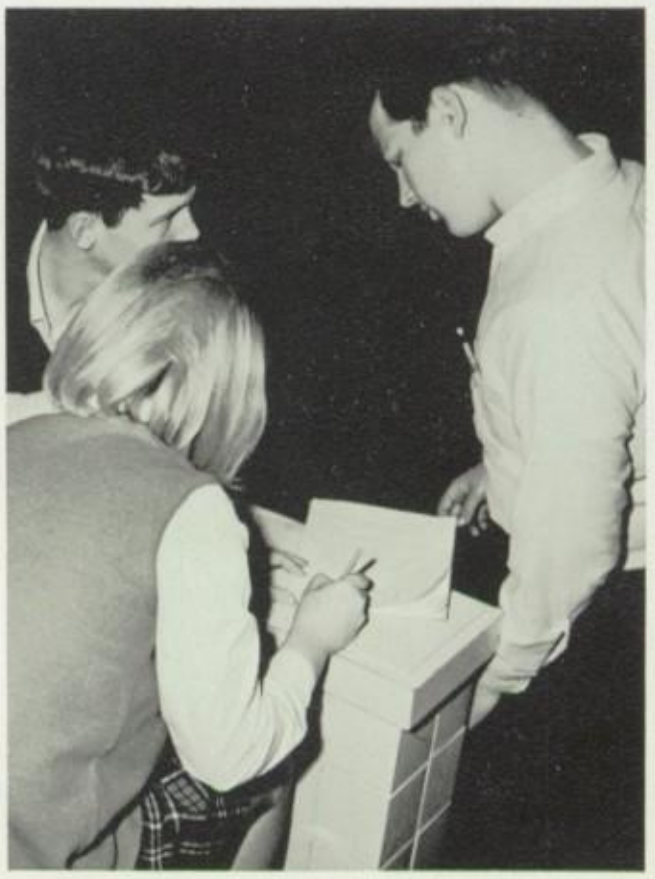
Any boy can participate in the i ntramural teams at noon. Incidentally, the Steamers won 5th period and Scotties Tissues won 6th.

No one ever pushes or shoves while in lunch line?

Studying in the cafeteria is certainly more fun than in study hall.

Can Be Quite Interesting

Students enjoy the seven dances throughout the year.



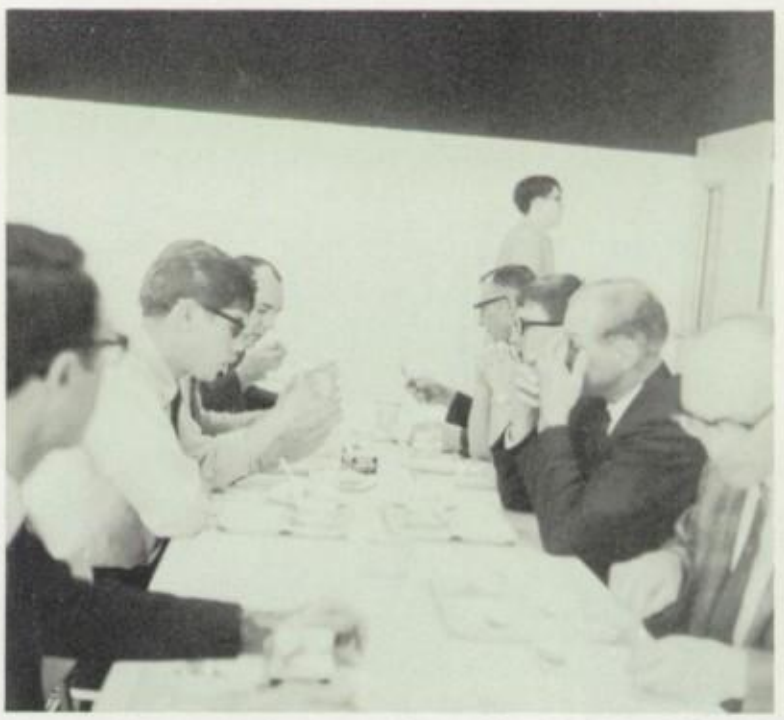
Comparing answers is the best way.

I wonder who will be first in lunch line.

Just looking or stacking?

Hurry up! I want a seat.

No, you can't have my corndog.



Look at their table manners!

Providence

William Cowper
1731 — 1800

God moves in a mysterious way
His wonders to perform;
He plants His footsteps in the sea,
And rides upon the storm.

Deep in unfathomable mines
Of never-failing skill
He treasures up His bright designs,
And works His sovereign will.

Ye fearful saints, fresh courage take,
The clouds ye so much dread
Are big with mercy, and shall break
In blessings on your head.

Judge not the Lord by feeble sense,
But trust Him for His grace:
Behind a frowning providence
He hides a smiling face.

His purposes will ripen fast,
Unfolding every hour;
The bud may have a bitter taste
But sweet will be the flower.

Blind unbelief is sure to err,
And scan His work in vain;
God is His own interpreter
And He will make it plain.

DECA CREED: I believe in the future which I am planning for myself in the field of distribution, and in the opportunities which my vocation offers.

I believe in fulfilling the highest measure of service to my vocation, my fellow beings, my country and my God--that by so doing, I will be rewarded with personal satisfaction and material wealth.

I believe in the democratic philosophies of private enterprise and competition, and in the freedoms of this nation--that these philosophies allow for the fullest development of my individual abilities.

I believe that by doing my best to live according to these high principles, I will be of greater service to both myself and to mankind.

During the summer of 1968, the old band room in the high school building was remodeled into quarters for the library. In September, these new attractively decorated spacious quarters were opened to appreciative student patrons.

The reading room seats forty-four people at ten tables and two carrels. The finish of the tables and cabinets is dark fruit wood, and the chairs are yellow, white, salmon, and aqua. A separate student conference room seats six people. Here students may work together preparing panel discussions, debates, and in other group activities. Carrels are another innovation in the library. Students can work in the carrels on projects which require non-book materials, such as film strips for the present; and later, various listening and viewing devices.

The library now has 3,500 volumes. Approximately five hundred additional volumes are to be added in 1969. Thirty-six periodicals are subscribed to. A pamphlet file is maintained, as well as an information file of ephermeral but useful material.

Although the library is now largely in the book stage, in the future it will become a multi-media learning center.

Mrs. Holms, librarian, enjoys the new library facilities.

The Jr. and Sr. Y-Teens had a number of money-making projects this year. The Sr. Y-Teens had a candy raffle and a cake raffle while the Jr. Y-Teens had a bake sale. Both clubs worked hard to help make the March Project a success. The clubs went Christmas Caroling, and had separate slumber parties at the YWCA. Throughout the year various programs included the initiation of the freshmen into the club, a cake decorator, a lesson in charm, a film from the State Patrol, a speaker on welfare, a speaker on nursing, and a foreign smorgasbord. A Mother and Daughter Tea held on May 14 marked the closing of another year in the Y-Teen Clubs, as the old officers held an induction ceremony for new 1969-1970 officers.

Each year the Lincolnview chapter of the Future Farmers of America participates in many community and school activities as well as sponsoring many activities in its own chapter.

At the county fair the chapter had 100% participation with 250 entries. The 14 entries at the state all received A's. As the new school year began the F.F.A. boys start their seed corn which is the major money making project for the chapter. During the fall the F.F.A. chapter competes against the other chapters in the district in a land judging contest. They also contribute to CROP, which supplies livestock to underdeveloped countries. On Heart Fund Sunday, Lincolnview F.F.A. boys canvas part of the Lincolnview School District for donations. They also sponsor a dance for the school where the F.F.A. Queen is crowned for the coming year.

As the Christmas season approaches the chapter and its members donate money for food to give to two needy families in this area. During the winter months the chapter competes against other F.F.A. chapters in basketball. The varsity team had a 3-3 record while the reserve team had a 6-0 record. The chapter also participates in the public speaking and district parliamentary procedure contest. This year they placed second in extemporaneous and eighth in the prepared speech. The parliamentary procedure team received a silver rating.

In the spring the chapter sends various teams to the state judging contest held at Ohio State University.

As the F.F.A. year comes to an end it is the time to honor members for their hard work during the year. This is done at the annual parent and son banquet. This year the chapter had four boys to receive the State F.F.A. Degree. This is the highest award the state can give a F.F.A. member. They were, Wayne Kemler, Ron Davis, Bruce Baer, and Steve Bolton. Around 200 F.F.A. members, parents, and guests attended the banquet. Carey Davis and David Leiendecker were made honorary members.

CAMELOT

A law was made a distant moon ago
July and August cannot be too hot
And there's a legal limit to the snow here;
In Camelot.
The winter is forbidden till December
And exits March the second on the dot
By order, summer lingers through September;
In Camelot.

Their time in Camelot.

Marj says 'Hi'.

Upon entering Sherwood Forest, the couples come to the Blue Boar Inn. Just beyond the inn is a small moat which surrounds the Castle of Camelot. Just inside the archway is a garden which contains white wrought-iron railing furniture and many small shrubs. The main lobby is enhanced by a large stone fireplace.

In the middle of the ballroom is a huge Lancer. The stone walls contain many shields of nearby castles. The Lancer on the main wall is draped by a beautiful gold drape.

Let's dance Rick.

Excuse me, please!
